A YOUNG HERO —The Detroit Advertiser of the 20th of December contains the following interesting account of the crossing at Fredericksburg, on the 13th of December, in which the Seventh Michigan Volunteers have borne a distinguished part

The drummer boy who crossed the Rappahannock at Fredericksburg, on Thursday of last week, with the Michigan 7th, in their daring achievement, arrived in this city last evening, and we were afforded an opportunity to converse with him His name is Robert Henry Hendershot, and he is 13 years of age. His only living parent, his mother, resides at Jackson, in this State, and has been supported for a few years past by this son and her own efforts He is a very bright and intelligent lad, modest but not bashful, and evidently honest and upright He told his story in a plain straightforward way, and of its reliability we have not the least doubt It is of such a strange and romantic nature that we feel justified in laying it in detail before our readers He first enlisted as a drummer-boy in the 9th Michigan Infantry, and went with the regiment to Tennessee. The first battle that he was present at was that of Lebanon in that State, where he acted as a drummer for the 4th Pennsylvania Cavalry. He was also at the battle of Shiloh and received a severe flesh wound under his right eye, and now carries the honorable scar with him.

After this battle, he was stationed with the regiment at Murfreesboro, and captured there by the rebels With the other prisoners, he marched 46 miles between 10 o'clock in the morning and 12 o'clock at night, part of the distance on a double-quick, to McMinnville. Here they were paroled and then all were sent to Camp Chase. He was there discharged on account of epileptic fits, to which painful affliction he has been subject since his earliest childhood. He returned to Monroe and went out with the 15th as waiter on one of the Captains. After serving with them for a short time, he returned to this city and served with Lieut Hogan, then recruiting in the city, as a drummer A few weeks since he went on with the Chaplain of the 8th and joined that regiment, although not regularly enlisted, as his continually recurring fits prevented his acceptance On the day of the taking of Fredericksburg, he left his regiment and pressed to the river bank, where the whole course of events was clearly observable. His description of the battle is most lucid and graphic At half past two, volunteers were called to cross the river in boats in the face of the enemy's fire and scatter their sharp-shooters. The 7th Michigan rushed down, and our drummer-boy with them. He was the third one in the boat, following the Captain and Lieutenant The Captain in command ordered him out against his protestations, telling him he would surely be killed. He then waited on the shore, and shoved off the first boat, when it was fully loaded, and instead of remaining on shore, clung to the stern of the boat and was born across half under water. The shot and shell flew thickly. Two men were killed within arm's length of him, and his own coat was torn open by a bullet. On reaching the opposite shore, a shot struck his drum, knocking it into splinters, and he caught up a loaded gun, dropped by a dead or wounded soldier, and followed on. He was one of the first to tear down the secession flag, and has brought off a piece as a trophy.—He then broke open a house, and found in the hand a rebel sharp shooter, wounded in his right hand He immediately brought his gun to bear on him, and marched him off to the boats in triumph as a prisoner. He then recrossed the river, and Gen Burnside met him and said "I glory in your spunk, boy; if you go on that way, you will soon get to my place" Among the trophies he found in the house he broke open, was a human bone, partially carved in the shape of a ring, which he brought off and now has with him. It would seem to confirm many of the horrible stories we have heard of the rebel barbarities. He was also present at the battle of Saturday, but did not actually participate, being in the city of Fredericksburg

After the battle, his malady occasioned his discharge again, and he started for home. He was found in Baltimore by a well-known citizen of Novi, in Oakland county, and he brought him with him to this city, arriving last evening. On all the railroads and at all hotels the little hero has been treated with all consideration, and no charges made for him anywhere He is now here without money, and we trust that our prominent citizens will take up a contribution in his behalf. Such pure heroism merits the greatest reward.

THE GLASSES OF A GIRL —What is there in the glance of a young girl? Nothing and everything—a mysterious abyss, half opened, and then suddenly closed There is a time when every young girl looks thus Woe to him upon whom she looks! This first glance of a soul which does not know itself is like the dawn in the sky It is the awakening of something radiant and unknown. Nothing can express the dangerous charm of this unlooked for gleam which suddenly suffuses adorable mysteries, and which is made up of all the innocence of the present and the passion of the future It is a kind of irresolute lovingness which is revealed by chance, and which is waiting It is a snare which innocence unconsciously spreads, and in which she catches hearts without intending it, and without knowing it. It is a maiden glancing like a woman It is rare that deep reverie is not born of this glance, wherever it may fall. All that is pure all that is vestal, is concentrated in the celestial and mortal glance, which more than the most studied ogling of the coquette has the magic power of suddenly forcing into bloom in the depths of the chaste flower of the shade full perfume and poison, which is called love

FRIDAY MORNING FEB 6, 186

News from the East

The Mississippi expedition is re organized and consists of largely over one hundred thousand men, who have been concentrated at Milliken's Bend, a few miles above Vicksburg Gen McClernand has seized the famous cut-off with which it was designed to change the channel of the Mississippi river, and is working with a promise of success The magnificent armament of this army and the intense enthusiasm of the soldiers and officers foreshadow a great victory The whole is under the command of Gen Grant, whose well-known impetuosity is tempered by skill and prudence which he has never received credit for In the admiration of his rude courage, men have too often forgotten that he could have never achieved the successes which have made his reputation, unless the other qualities of a great commander were his also. The naval accompaniment of this expedition must be immense consisting of not less than twelve iron-clad gunboats and steam rams, besides Admiral Farragut's immense fleet at Baton Rouge with Gen Banks We may expect stirring news from Vicksburg at any time, for the future

The report of the collusion of Horace Greeley with the French Minister for the purpose of procuring the intervention of France, may be true, but it will be productive of no results The two parties have not yet come to an understanding of their relative positions, and until they do peace is out of the question The opening of the Mississippi would have an immense influence in fixing the capacity of the two great contestants, and afford some basis on which peace might be honestly made, on terms satisfactory to all but those who wish the war continued simply as a means of self-aggrandizement or to carry out the insane ideas of unpractical men. We do not believe that madness rules the hour, and do believe that a peace which will restore the Union permanently, with guarantees to the people on points concerning life, liberty and property, will meet the acquiescence of the majority of the nation. But until some point is reached where the Unionists absolutely predominate, this consummation appears impossible. Certainly intervention by France will effect nothing to that end.

The movements of Gen Rosekrans' army are shrouded in mystery, and the same is true of Gen. Hooker's This silence may precede operations on an immense scale. Certainly the time is ripe for them

ROAD TO BOISE.—The Mountaineer gives the following table of distances to the Boise mines from Dalles The road runs by Canyon City, on John Day, and Mormon Basin, which is just south of Auburn

From Dalles to Fifteen Mile Creek by road and trail	12 miles
" Fifteen Mile Creek to Todd's Bridge	10
" Salt Spring	8
" Baker Open Hollow	14
" Thorn Hollow	6
" Cross Hollows	4
" Pine Hollow	5
" Antelope Valley	4
" Potato Hills	10
" Rimmell Rocks	4
" Cherry Creek	10
" John Day	3
" Bridge Creek	4
" Muddy	8
" Foot of Mountain	8
" Cross Mountain to Rock Creek	12
" Down Rock Creek	14
" John Day	2
" South Fork	4
" Up John Day to Canyon City	16
" Canyon City to Dixie Creek	12
" Foot of the Mountain	8
" Meisner Ranch on Burnt River	20
" Down Burnt River	10
" Cross Hills to Malheur	8
" Down Malheur to Eutigum Road	20
" Old Fort Boise	16
Total from Dalles to Fort Boise	252

From Fort Boise to the mines is about forty miles The route leads a great part of the way through the best mining range in Eastern Oregon, and miners may find it advantageous to prospect on the road

CANYON CITY DIGGINGS.—A correspondent of the Mountaineer represents the weather as being exceedingly fine at Canyon City—Canyon creek has been prospected for seven or eight miles along its bed, and its character for richness established The tributaries of this stream are Pine, Long and Rich Gulches, which have all been proven good Many miners have gone to Boise from this point, and there is room for a large number of miners, say 2,000 The mines are yet in their infancy and possess singular advantages of location and climate Probably no mining camp yet discovered, has yielded a better or more general return to miner's labor

BOISE QUARTZ.—Mr Tolley of the Boise mines, has obtained returns from assays of Boise quartz, yielding $1,920 to the ton The gold was at the rate of 92 20 ounces, and the silver at the rate of 38 34 ounces to the ton of rock.

DROWNED.—A J Billingsley was drowned two miles below the Dalles, on the 27th of January, ult, by being swept from the deck of a scow. He is supposed to have been from Sabine, Louisiana, and to have lived at Auburn, California

COMING THIS WAY.—The California papers are complaining of the dullness of the mining towns of that State It is likely that a large portion of the California population is turning to our Eastern gold fields

Miscellaneous Paragraphs

Little minds are ruined by paltry successes

Gratitude is a lively hope of favors to come

Modesty, like perfect honesty is a scarce article now a days

Looking glasses are not as correct at forty as they appear to us at twenty

A man who does not blow his own trumpet has not usually got one to blow

"To err is human, to forgive divine" but he who cannot forgive should never err

What's done we can't undo
But know what's to be done

Beauty in woman is most attractive when the possessor of it is unconscious of her own perfections

Instead of regretting the waste of precious time in the past we should strive to economize it in the future

Men are greatly tried by the extremes of fortune, and he is really a great man who can withstand both

Massa Nissa is the most ancient specimen of modern chivalry of whom we have any record He was an African

Man needs to live a long life to know how to live well, and we know not the value of youth until it is past

A coquette retains her admirers because they are in constant hopes that she intends to grant more than they have right to ask

The man who has stood before the iron sleet of battle, has blushed like a school girl on coming into places of social enjoyment

If we call too often on our friends for sympathy, we bore them and people soon get tired of helping them who will not try to help themselves

Benjamin F Butler is called the scorpion tamer, for having tamed the wild spirits of secessiondom, and is really the Van Amburg of the Union army

A constant lover can endure much from his mistress, but no passion, however intense, can survive the sight of the feminine bent out magnificon and cabbage.

In twenty years from to day, "sweet sixteen" will be as plain as her mother We say "plain," for really good women never get old enough to be ugly

That which appears natural in men of large stature is absurd in small men the colossal dignity of George Washington would be ridiculous in McClellan or even Bonaparte

Ferguson, the poet, died of starvation A splendid monument adorns his grave and on it is written, "He asked for bread and ye gave him a stone,"—the finest sarcasm ever uttered.

That which is neither hot nor cold is lukewarm, and consequently insipid Juleps are said to be cold and punches, hot or cold both are said to be good That which is true of beverages is true of men

A story is told by the London Lancet, of a young married lady who had her feet, which were very small, cut off to spite her husband If they had been very large we could have believed the statement, not otherwise

"'Tis sweet to hear the honest watch dog's bark, bay deep mouthed welcome as we draw near home, 'tis sweet to know there is an eye will mark our coming and grow brighter when we come," and "sweet is revenge, especially to women; pillage to soldiers, prize money to seamen."

Conscience is said to be a monitor to guard us from the approach of sin, but there are many sins which people will commit if they had a dozen consciences Speaking of consciences and monitors, reminds us that the modern article, like Ericsson's iron battery is generally iron clad

At the great naval battle of Trafalgar Nelson hung out a pendant on which was printed the memorable words, England expects every man to do his duty" Seeing it a Scotchman remarked to his mate, 'Look Jack, he'er a word for puir old Scotland' The other replied, "Oh, that is merely a hint to the Britishers, everybody knows well enough that Scotland will always do her duty."

OUR PENITENT CONTEMPORARY.—The change in the tone of our morning contemporary, on the subject of black mail is to be placed above all praise At one time it gave certain persons belonging to the O S N Co, a specimen of its powers in the black mail line, for which one of the Company's "mercenaries" slapped the handsome countenance of the gay Lothario, who does the outside bumming for the establishment, and who drinks most of the gratuitous whisky which is sent to the office A genteel kicking inflicted on the hinder parts of the editor, which left the impress of the toe of our young friend Jimmy H's boot, is said to be the cause of his sudden conversion to truth and decency We mention these little occurrences to account for the moral lecture which we notice in the Time and which we copy below

In this manner the innocent may suffer the upright may be held up to the public in all the unfavorable aspects which misdirected genius can invent or malice suggest the reputation of one whose integrity is above just question may be destroyed, and he thrown into causeless disgrace without any means of redress beyond pecuniary damages against the person who chooses thus to malign his character And even this poor remedy sometimes out of ten is of no possible value being against an establishment buried beyond resurrection under mortgages and liens, and run simply as a black mail machine to grind out bread and butter for such vampires as society as are willing thus to prey upon the reputations of the virtuous Slanders of the foulest character may thus be circulated concerning the most upright by irresponsible and unprincipled persons who if told they will be held responsible for their libels, may answer defiantly, that you cannot damage them any—nobody will suffer but their securities They hide behind their poverty to assassinate the reputation of honest men who do not feel disposed to be fleeced by them.

BOISE PRICES.—Flour is selling at 50 cents at Boise, sugar, 75c, bacon, 75c and fresh beef at 17 and 18c These were the ruling prices on the 1st of January

Ten-Pin Alley Humbugs.

In reply to my card in the Oregonian of the 4th inst exposing the nefarious conduct of the enterprising Kellogs they come out and make several assertions which every one who was present at the time will find three hundred was rolled knocks to be untrue But men who will recess as the custom to resort to use by the offer of gifts which they never intend to give may be expected to be as regardless of truth as they are willing to justify themselves, as they are of keeping their promises These Ten-pin holkys accuse me of dishonesty of bribing the pin setter of telling them half as well as they could of counting too many for a game of while keeping the game Now these same declarations I can and will in a court of justice prove to be false and only by the want of such will themselves from the just attempt at the public for their refusal to give up a private swindling arrangement and finally won honestly and fairly But the littleness of these villainous worthies is plainly shown in their own resolute-able card by the contemptible quibble that a set of cards, we offered a prize valued at fifty dollars—though it will be proven that they never offered that amount in such a way The result has shown, however that it made no difference what or how much lies they could tell as they did not from the first, intend to make the offer good

VIGILANCE H & L COMPANY, No 1.—The following are the officers of Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, for the ensuing year: Marks Jaretzky, Foreman; V Parris, First Assistant; James Farrell Second Assistant; T J Holmes, President; W. Lair Hill, Secretary; E G Randall, Treasurer. Members of the Board of Delegates —E W. McGraw, M M Lucas, E G Randall.

RECRUITING.—The recruiting office for the Oregon Cavalry in this city is under the charge of John F. Noble, Esq., who has received a commission to raise a company for that corps. Recruits will be at once sent to Fort Vancouver, where military instruction will be imparted and the recruit saved from inactivity, which is the bane of a soldier's life. During the ensuing year there is a strong probability that the Oregon Cavalry will be actively employed against the Indians to the East of us, and soldiers may reasonably depend upon having their full share of adventure. We know full well that the prospect of service is the greatest incentive to enlistments, and unless there is a reasonable prospect of it that enlistments will be slack. The troops raised in this State and Washington Territory have no occasion to find fault with their management, unless it may be in the dilatoriness of the Pay Department, and this objection is removed by the resolution of the Government to pay no salaries on the civil list until the military arrearages are all paid up. In future, payments will be frequent and regular. Full particulars will be given in relation to the service by application at the office, in Kingsley's Buildings.

AGRICULTURAL.—The Board of Managers of the Washington county Agricultural Society will hold a meeting at Hillsboro, on Saturday the 21st of February, at 10 A M. A full attendance is urgently requested.

NEATLY TURNED.—Some of the secession papers allege as crimes against the Administration, the frauds which have been practiced on it. This is a little like the showman, who, speaking of the hyena, says that it lures the wayfarer to its den by its peculiar cry, closely resembling that of a person in distress, "a sad instance," he concludes, "of the depravity of human nature."—Marysville Appeal.

AN ALPHABET CHAP.—Recently in the Court of Queen's Bench, London, Edmund Jonathan Hornblower Watkins Clark applied for leave to drop the Jonathan and Watkins, as so long a name put him to a great deal of trouble when signing documents. The application was granted.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO SANITARY FUND.—From the Young Ladies Literary Society of Willamette University, Salem, $182. Young men's Hesperian Society, Salem, $7 25. Rev Cushing Eells, Walla Walla, W T., $10—Total receipts $191,383 50. A HOLBROOK.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies of this sort act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to Brown's Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges, for the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat before worse or slight ones by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. BROWN'S SPERMA and STROMA will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement. de16dlaw3m

Storage.—THE FIRE-PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite Umatilla House, is the only building not made of wood, at the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE. All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although storage in wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton, yet the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

White's Fever and Ague Drops—For the cure of AGUE PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure in Ague especially one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES

Are unequaled by any for beauty, simplicity of construction, easily learned, easily managed, not liable to get out of order, and will do

IN A PERFECT MANNER,

A greater range of work than any other machine.

The value of a Sewing Machine cannot be estimated by the amount of wood, iron, brass or steel used in its construction, but by the manner in which these materials are put together, and the quantity and quality of the work it turns out. You can buy a watch or a piano-forte for very little money but if you want either for your own use, you wish an article which can be relied upon and you will purchase accordingly.

LADD & WEBSTER'S Sewing Machines

use a straight needle, curved ones are liable to break.

They make a tight lock stitch alike on both sides of the work, which cannot be ravelled.

Every machine is sent from our office threaded, and with work under the needle ready for operation, accompanied with such explicit printed instructions as will enable persons who may never have seen a machine to teach themselves.

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely and take a dose of it internally morning, noon and night, it will not only cure the pain but will remove the cause of the [illegible].

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea. It will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Gen. Sumner's Way.—A letter from Falmouth describes Gen. Sumner's manner of directing his troops in a battle, which will be found somewhat different from the fancy Brigadier style. We quote the following:

During the late battle, General Sumner, in pursuance of an impernitive order from Gen. Burnside, remained on this side of the river. That order at least saved us one Major General. There is usually a great deal of euphonism about a General "leading" his troops. In military language he is leading them when he occupies his appointed place, far in the rear.

But such is not Sumner's mode. Forty years of fighting Indians, Mexicans and rebels, have not toned down his boyish enthusiasm. He goes into a battle con amore, as poor Kearny did. There is a touch of the old-time chivalry, in the way this veteran of nearly seventy—erect and agile as a youth of twenty—dashes into battle, with his white hair and beard streaming in the wind—rides up and down his front line, wherever the bullets fly thickest, cheering, rallying and literally leading his men. He really seems bullet proof.

He is usually scratched; often has his hat, coat or boots torn, and men killed all around him, but escapes without harm. Once, in Mexico, a bullet struck him square in the forehead. The soldiers insist that it dropped to the ground, flattened, as the ball drops from the forehead of the buffalo. Whether this be true or not, Sumner certainly lived to fight many other days.

Had he been permitted at Fredericksburg, he would doubtless have led the van; but by all human probabilities he must have shared the fate of Bayard. Death permitted no liberties there. No man on horseback who went out on that fiery front, returned to tell what he saw. General Burnside's order saved us the life of an honored veteran. It was a time, too, requiring no impetuosity, but the highest caution and discrimination—when such Generals as Couch, Hancock and Howard were compelled to exercise their utmost circumspection.

Tax payers will please notice the following extracts from the U. S. Excise Laws:

"All persons who shall neglect to pay the duties and taxes, etc., by law assessed upon them to the Collector within the time specified, shall be liable to pay ten per centum additional upon the amount thereof."

Sec. 59. And be it further enacted, That if any person or persons shall exercise or carry on any trade or business herein after mentioned for the exercising or carrying on of which the law requires a license is required by this Act, without taking out such license as in that behalf required, he, she, or they shall, for every such offense, respectively, forfeit a penalty equal to three times the amount of the duty or sum of money imposed for such license, one moiety thereof to the use of the United States, the other moiety to the use of the person who, if a collector, shall first discover, and if other than a collector, shall first give information of the fact whereby said forfeiture was incurred.

N. B. The penalties as outlined by law will be rigidly enforced on all who fail to pay within the time specified in the above notice.

Proclamation by the Governor.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, PORTLAND, OREGON, January 6, 1863.

By the President of the United States, through Brigadier General George Wright, commanding the Department of the Pacific, and Brigadier General Benjamin Alvord, commanding the District of Oregon, I have been requested to raise six additional companies, required to complete the 1st Regiment of Cavalry, Oregon Volunteers. They will be needed the coming Spring on the frontiers of this State and Washington Territory, and for an expedition against the Snake Indians, who have so long been mercilessly engaged in robbing emigrants and murdering our fellow-citizens. I cannot doubt that the citizens of Oregon, who have always promptly responded to any demand for their military services, will in like manner respond to this call: thereby showing their loyalty to the Government, and aiding in chastising marauding bands of Indians which infest our frontiers.

The enlisted men, when mounted, will be supplied with horses by the United States, it being understood that they will be mounted or not, as shall be deemed advisable by the government.

Propositions to raise a whole company, which will furnish their own horses and horse equipments, may be entertained. The men are in such cases entitled to forty cents a day for the use and risk of their horses and horse equipments.

Each company will consist of one hundred enlisted men, and when mustered into the service of the United States to serve for three years, unless sooner discharged.

Recruiting offices will be immediately opened at Portland, Dalles City, and perhaps at other places. By the Governor,

ADDISON C. GIBBS.

CYRUS A. REED, Adjutant General.

Peck, for the sum of $128 88 judgment and costs of suit, for want of personal property I have levied upon the following real estate as the property of A. Watts, to-wit: Lot No. 4 in Block No. 165, one undivided half of the south half of Lot No. 2 in Block No. 2 in the city of Portland, Oregon. Notice is hereby given that I shall sell the above-described real estate at Public Auction, upon the premises, on Saturday, the 31st day of January, 1863, or so much thereof as will satisfy the sum of $128 88 judgment, with interest thereon at two and one-half per cent. per month from 11th March, 1862, together with costs of suit and expenses of sale. Sale to take place at twelve o'clock. R. J. LADD,

Portland, Jan. 3d, 1863. td Sheriff Multnomah Co.
